e. The "Stop Out" level is 20% but the bonus carries until your balance reaches 0.

For example,

you deposit $100, a bonus of $100 will be added.

Making your total equity of $200.

Once you start losing money, you may only lose the $100 of you own deposit.

The bonus cannot be lost.

In other words, your investment amount cannot fall below 0. Positions will be closed as soon as 0 is seen.

For Example,

- Deposit: 100 USD
- Bonus: 100 USD
- Total Asset: 200 USD
- Net Asset: Deposit - Bonus = 100 USD
- Default Position Collateral: 100 USD
- Stop Out Level: 20%

Calculation:

$$100 * 20\% = 20 \text{ USD}$$

(Your positions will be closed when the net asset falls below $20)

In other words, your positions will be closed when $80 is lost.

Scenario:

Let's assume you opened a transaction with a collateral of 100 USD. Your positions will be closed (Stop-Out) when your net asset reaches 20% of the collateral amount.

f. The maximum bonus amount if $1000.

For example,

For %100 First Time Deposit (STD)Margin Bonus*

 - Bonus Amount: 100% of $100 = $100
